THE MILLENNIUM CENTRE

Constructed between 1910 and 1912 for the Bank of Commerce, the Millennium Centre is an opulent neoclassical building designed by premier Canadian Architects Darling and Pearson. Located in the Exchange District National Historic Site, the building sat primarily vacant for many years following the bank's departure in 1969.

The former Bank of Commerce (and the neighbouring Bank of Hamilton) then became a rallying point for Winnipeg's heritage movement, and was one of the first buildings to receive the protection of municipal heritage designation in 1979. This same advocacy for Winnipeg's built heritage also resulted in the creation of Heritage Winnipeg. Today, Heritage Winnipeg manages the ongoing conservation and operation, including events, of the Millennium Centre.
